JANOWIEC NEARBY BARDO – THE OLD MINING CENTRE, ACCORDING TO THE ARCHIVES, FIELD, CATALOGUING AND DENDROCHRONOLOGICAL RESEARCH

The article discusses the new discovery of the 16th and 18th century mining remnants in Janowiec near Bardo Śląskie and describes archive, field, cataloguing and dendrochronological research performed between 2012 and 2014. During the territorial research the gates to four past adits were located. Some of them have been prepared to enable document making of the overhauled excavated passages. On the basis of the remains left, dendrochronological trials were performed in one of them. Furthermore a successful trial of historical creation connected with the mining research in the area of Janowiec was performed.
